

ANTIQUÉ CHIC

This informal and relaxed wedding places an emphasis on fabulous food and good company

"MY DAUGHTERS Tiahna and Taylor were flower girls."

"We got to the reception early and greeted people as they arrived so we saw each guest personally"

Zoe & Bronx

WHO Zoe Cattanach, 31, beauty therapist, and Bronx Goodwin, 25, NRL player for St George Illawarra.

WHEN October 11, 2009.

WHERE A ceremony was held at the Column Garden, Centennial Park, Sydney, followed by a reception at The Victoria Room, Darlinghurst.

GUESTS 90.

THEME "Simple and tasteful with a vintage feel."

DRESS "I wore a heavy, silk-satin gown in milk and antique white. The structured bodice featured frills on the straps, side and back, and a velvet ribbon and flower adorned the waist."

HAIR "I had a sweeping fringe and large curls pinned behind one ear with a flower."

FLOWER GIRLS' DRESSES "They wore cream, knee-length, silk dresses with silver beading around the neck."

FLOWERS "I carried a mix of cream roses and ranunculus in a posy. My daughters carried smaller posies of pale pink ranunculus."

THE CEREMONY "I had no wet-weather option for the garden ceremony, so luckily we didn't have a drop of rain! As I walked down the aisle, a dear friend played Hawaiian singer Israel Kamakawiwo'ole's version of Somewhere Over the Rainbow on guitar. We had two readings – a poem read by my father and a reading by my daughters from a book called Love is a Handful of Honey by Giles Andreae."

We wrote our own vows and included Tiahna and Taylor in them, to signify the fact that we were uniting as a family, not just a couple."

DECORATIONS "The room featured a mixture of low-line antique lounges, studded leather booths and dining tables with antique chairs, with gorgeous Moroccan tea-light candles in the middle of each table. We didn't have a seating plan because we thought guests would have a better time sitting with people they knew."

ENTERTAINMENT "The venue's house DJ played lounge music at the reception."
CAKE "We had a white-chocolate mud cake topped with icing versions of Bronx and me – mini Bronx had a football under his foot."

"TWO PILLARS marked the spot where Bronx and I stood."

"WE LOVED the reception venue's old-world charm."
